Katarina migrated to the United States in 2002 and started to develop interest in the real estate industry in the late 2000s. In 2011, Katarina attended Real Estate Education Center to begin a new career.

Upon receiving her certificate and license as a real estate broker, she started to work for a small brokerage firm focusing on commercial leases across Manhattan. In three years, Katarina managed to close over 60 commercial deals in the said borough. She was also a tenant representative with a huge network of clients.

Having gathered experience in the real estate world, Katarina started her own brokerage firm in 2015 and has made deals with multi-million dollar companies, whole sale companies, and technology and production companies.

Katarina brings to Greiner-Maltz Investment Properties (GMIP) a competitive knowledge of the real estate industry and its market.

At GMIP, Katarina now focuses on multi-family, mixed-use, development and commercial sales in Bedford-Stuyvesant. Being a previous resident of the neighborhood, Katarina has a vast knowledge and familiarity with the area.

Katarina was born, raised and educated in Sweden. Aside from being certified real estate agent, she also attended a nursing school and a beauty school.

She was a member of a pop band that got signed to EMI Music and EMI Publishing. Through the duration of her experience as a pop artist, she has traveled to different countries to market their album and they were able to sold over 2 million albums.

Katarina is also an accomplished photographer and videographer and enjoys bringing her various skills into her real estate career.
