Filippo DiGiovanna is a highly experienced, and accomplished operations manager in the field of construction, and building industry. Additionally, he possesses unparalleled sales expertise in garnering Fortune 1000 organizations to his client roster.

His experience includes his tenor at Kelly Williams Realty Landmark II, and now Greiner Maltz Investment Properties.

DiGiovanna was owner and partner of New York Kitchen and Cabinetry, at NYKC Of New York. He implemented policies and procedures, interacted with a large host of trades and architects, regulatory agencies, and consistently liaised with clients to bring projects to successful and profitable fruition. Concurrently marketing and branding allowed him to excel in a go-to atmosphere. DiGiovanna practically branded himself as “Better Call Filippo”, whenever kitchen renovations were required. His unique understanding of consumer and retail sales, along with his insight give him a winning combination.

DiGiovanna attended Queens College and studied Business Administration. DiGiovanna is a long-time resident in Ridgewood, Queens and loves living in Queens. He is fluent in Italian and has working knowledge of European cabinetry which has afforded him the opportunity to work internationally in real estate. With both commercial and residential listings, DiGiovanna is working to expand his career at Greiner Maltz Investment Properties.
